Old Business:

Ruth has made our Christmas dinner reservations for 2015.

December 8th at 6:30 PM.
Keep this date open as it is always a lot of fun.

Jim Ethington recently visited in Ireland and had this report for us, we ran across a festival, and I found this guy doing some turning with a Pole lathe. I spoke with him a good while and he was turning out some handles for knives. I thought most of the folks in the club might like to see his stuff.

The idea was that when he pushes the fork down with his foot it pulls down on the pole and turns the piece. When he lets up with his foot it returns and he does it all over again
